Dear Governor Cooper,
I am writing because I understand that you still have the ability to shut down permitting for the Atlantic Coast Pipeline, which would moved fracked gas 600 miles through Appalachia, including to our state--and I would like you to use your power to do just that! I understand you signed the "We Are Still In" statement to continue enforcement of the Paris Climate Agreement; well, this is a great opportunity to make that commitment on your part really mean something. Please do NOT allow this--or any other fracked gas or oil pipeline!--to be permitted in our state. I do not support any of these pipelines being built anywhere, because I believe that investing in infrastructure to perpetuate the use of fossil fuels is quite frankly suicidal and ecocidal, and it is not the right direction for our state or country to go! But we can only fight where we stand, so that is what I am asking you to do, as Governor: fight for our state, and for our future! Thank you and I hope you will take action on this important issue facing our state and world.
